480,000 ACRES WILL BE SOLD TO SETTLERS IF SENATE
CONCURS.

OPPOSITION IN THE SENATE

Great Scheme to Let Surface Owners Grab the Coal Supply.

Washington, D. C., May 11.—If the senate concurs in the action taken by the house this afternoon the surface of the segregated coal and asphalt lands belonging to the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations in Oklahoma, 480,000 acres will be sold to settlers.

While the house had under consideration the Burke omnibus Indian bill, Representative McGuire of Oklahoma, offered this amendment: "Provide, that the secretary of the interior shall under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe sell exclusive of mineral rights the surface of the segregated coal and asphalt lands of the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations in Oklahoma, and place the proceeds therefrom to the credit of said tribes of Indians in the treasury of the United States."

McGuire Amends Bill.

After a brief explanation of the amendment by Mr. McGuire, it was adopted without opposition. The Burke bill later was passed with the amendment. The bill will now go to the senate where it, probably will encounter opposition from members of the Indian committee of that body. Several attempts have been made during the past five years to put through a bill providing for the sale of the surface of the coal lands, but without success.

Several senators have objected to such legislation on the grounds that it would not provide sufficient protection to the Indians. The coal deposits are said to be worth forty millions at a low estimate and precautions have been taken to prevent railroads and syndicates from defrauding the tribes. Despite the fact that the McGuire amendment provides for the sale of the surface lands only the question of whether it protects the rights of the Indians to mineral will be raised.

Gore Has Bill.

Senator Gore during the day introduced a somewhat similar bill in the senate. Under the provisions of the Gore bill prospective settlers may acquire 160 acres of land on long time payments and with five per cent interest charges. There is also a contingency provision in connection with the future sale of the underlying mineral fashioned after the administration conservation bill. It recognized the right of prospective purchasers to enter upon the land for the purpose of prospecting for coal or asphalt, but only after satisfactory security is filed with the secretary of the interior, such an arrangement, it is thought would secure to the farmer payment of all damages to the crops and improvements on lands affected by prospecting operations.

The right to use so much of the surface as may be necessary for legitimate mining purposes is also provided for, but mine owners must reimburse the landlords for its use.

Position Explained.

Senator Gore stated today that he introduced the bill because it was evident that the republican majority in the house was not disposed to favor winding up the affairs of the Five Civilized Tribes at this session and that he believed in getting a half loaf rather than none. The interior department is on record as favoring the sale of the surface at this time.

There was also added to the Burke bill provisions inserted in the Creager Five Tribes bill by Representative Carter. This amendment would make retroactive that part of the restrictions act of 1908 bearing upon the property of deceased Indians. Considerable property is affected by the provisions as follows: "Conveyances made by full-blood heirs subsequent to July 27, 1908, of allotments where the allottee died prior to May 27, 1908, shall have the same effect as if the allottee had died subsequent to May 27, 1908, and without requiring the approval of the secretary of the interior."

Ferris Is Opposed.

Representative Scott Ferris also took a fling at what he called "reactionary" legislation. He succeeded in having eliminated from the bill a provision which would make it impossible for every restricted Indian in the United States save only the Five Tribes to sell their personal property. He pointed out that almost every western banker and business man had taken chattel mortgages on an Indian's pony or live stock and that a great convenience to the Indians had resulted. The Indian office is in favor of this national restriction upon the Indians. Chairman Burke finally agreed to let the provision go out of the bill.

An attempt to repeal an old law which provides for an allotment of Indians on the public domain failed. This provision, it is thought, will some day be made use of by Indians who for one reason or another failed to establish their rights to allotments in the Five Tribes and elsewhere.

The Burke bill was also amended in order that state banks may become depositories for Indian moneys. Heretofore only national banks have enjoyed this business. It is estimated that in Oklahoma alone several million dollars may be transferred from national to state banks, if the proper security is forthcoming.

RESULTS OF THE RECENT HOOK DECISION

The Laborers' Loss, the Railroads' Gain.

Guthrie, Okla., May 11.—Chas. L. Daugherty of the State Department of Labor, who has just returned to the capital from Norman, tells of a situation that exists in that city, which illustrates one of the effects of the recent Hook decision.

It appears from Mr. Daugherty's statement that a certain paving company having its offices in another state, had recently taken a contract with the city of Norman to put in a lot of paving. In due time this work was inaugurated and the company employed a large number of workmen. Under the law of the state any company employing laborers must pay them the wages common to the community in which the work is being done. It was reported to Mr. Daugherty that this law was being violated; so he went to Norman forthwith to make an investigation.

At Norman Mr. Daugherty found that the paving company had taken the contract before Judge Hook rendered his decision, and that they had figured their contract on the basis of the freight rates in operation at that time. They had figured on using a great quantity of asphaltum from Ardmore, the freight on which at that time was 52c per ton. Immediately upon the renderings of the Hook decision the railroads advanced the rates on asphaltum to $1.50—an increase of approximately 200 per cent. This increase compelled the paving company to cut their expenses, so they reduced the wages of their employees from $2.00 per day to $1.75 per day. The officials of the company told Mr. Daugherty that they were perfectly willing to pay current prices for labor, but to do so in view of the increased freight rates would cause them to lose heavily on their contract. Under the law however, they were compelled to restore the wages of employees to the former figure and to bear loss themselves.

ICE BREAKS ON KLONDYKE.

Damage Threatened From Jams in River Near Dawson.

Dawson, Yukon Territory, May 10.—The ice on the Klondyke river broke up yesterday and a big jam formed at the Ogilvie steel bridge, a mile below here. The ice was piled up to a height of ten feet and the water was backed up over the flats. Several houses were floated from their foundations and carried down stream. Two feet of water ran through the big shops of the Yukon Gold Company, which cover several acres and were just completed. The pressure against the steel bridge is terrific, and if the jam does not break up soon, there is danger of the bridge being carried out.

Jim Faunt Le Roy went to Holdenville this morning. He has accepted a position with Hamilton Drug Co.

THE COMET'S APPROACH.

Astronomy is not only the oldest
of the sciences, but it is the most noble and is most closely associated in all the ages with the exaltation of human conception to a comprehension of the Creator. When the Chaldean shepherds gazed into the star-studded heavens and began the first rudimentary of rudimentary astronomy they were the pioneers in a system of investigation that has progressed unceasingly to the present time. To the purely mathematical studies of the ancients we have in this latter day added many improvements. Solar chemistry has resulted from one of the most wonderful discoveries of all times—the spectro-scope.

About a year ago the astronomers
of the world began to predict the exact day, and nearly the exact hour, when Halley's great comet would again visit our planetary system after an absence of three-quarters of a century in regions far beyond the limit of all known stellar space. With an exactitude that is almost uncanny
this wonderful comet came on scheduled time, and on May 18 the earth will pass through its luminous tail.
Already the men of science have studied this comet from all the observatories in the world, and it is being photographed in continuous succession. But most important of all is the fact that a spectrum analysis
of its tail reassures us that no damage to the earth may be expected
when our atmosphere comes in contact with the components of the comet's gaseous appendage.

Interesting and deeply impressive will be this visitation when it fully develops to the human eye. Thanks to the astronomers, we of the civilized world are prepared for the sight. We have been notified, long in advance, of the exact nature of this solar phenomenon and we are not afraid. But in all parts of the world there are ignorant and superstitious peoples who will be thrown into paroxysms of fear. Even in this country with the wide-spread publicity which has been given to everything connected with the comet there are many who believe that the end of the world is at hand. In ordinary times when there is no visible comet
there are frequent demonstrations among certain religious and superstitious sects that take up some casual disaster—a flood or a conflagration—and make it the basis of a prediction that the world is about to be destroyed. But our old earth has been wagging along in security for many millions of years, and Halley's comet has come and gone countless times, yet insofar as we know no harm has ever resulted and human life continues.—The Kansas City

WILL SEGREGATE VICE
Kansas City, May 11.—To shield respectable residence districts of the city from the baleful gleam of the
"red light," the board of police commissioners will segregate vice.

With this object Commissioners
Solon T. Gilmore and Thomas R.
Marks made a tour yesterday of certain portions of the district roughly bounded by Tenth street, Kersey Coates terrace, Oak street and the river. They found in some parts of that section, recognized as tough in bygone years, that the scarlet element had been crowded out by the Italian colony. These people are industrious and frugal, and may have bought homes. They do not want to bring their children up in a bad environment. Every day complaints are made to the board of the scarlet invasion in districts formerly free from undesirables.

"We learned much on our trip,"
said Commissioner Gilmore last night
"but no decision was reached. If possible we want to establish a segregated district. We cannot legalize, but we can regulate. Undesirable characters must be moved from districts over which they have scattered. Other methods have been resorted to in the past, but the cure has been worse than the evil. Just where the proposed district should be is a matted that calls for the exercise of care and judgment. The police commissioners have their own opinions, but before we fully decide we must get more information."

Cayenne Pepper Vinegar.

This is an enemy to microbes, and has been sent to many of the soldiers in the Philippines. The ingredients called for are one pint cider vinegar, one-half ounce cayenne pepper, two teaspoonfuls walnut catsup, a clove of garlic and cochineal to color. Slice the garlic and put the rest of the ingredients in a large glass, can or bottle. Allow it to infuse for a month, strain, bottle and seal.

Butter Taffy.

Put into a granite saucepan a cup
and a half of light brown sugar, three tablespoonfuls of molasses, a tablespoonful and a half each of hot water and vinegar and a pinch of salt. Cook until brittle when dropped in cold water. Add three tablespoonfuls of butter, cook a moment, add a tablespoonful of vanilla and pour into a shallow buttered pan. When cool mark into squares.

Velvet Cream.

One pint cream, whipped stiff, add
one and one-half tablespoonfuls of gelatin. Soak the gelatin in a little hot water until dissolved. One teaspoonful of vanilla, sugar to taste, one-half cupful of chopped pecans, one-half slice of candied pineapple cut up, one-half cupful candied cherries chopped.
Stir all together and mold.

Corn Soup.

Open a can of corn, empty into a saucepan and cover with water. Let come to a boil, add plenty of sweet milk and cream and let stand until thoroughly heated, then pour through a colander to remove the coarse part of the corn. Return to the fire, season with salt, pepper and butter and serve with crackers or wafers.

The Prodigal Uncle

By HAROLD CARTER

It was during the second term in the penitentiary that the great plan first came into Jim Byers' head. At first it was only a thought that stole upon him during the night, while he tossed uneasily upon his plain bed;
then a desire; suddenly a mighty and overwhelming passion which must be fulfilled.

When he was freed prison societies
came to him and offered him help.
But he refused and started on his tramp eastward with the little money that he had earned. First he must fulfill his determination.

It was 150 miles up state to the old home where his brother—the rich man—still lived. Walter had stayed at home and prospered, and was always spoken of as a prospective millionaire, while he, the outcast, the
prodigal, the jailbird, the broken man, tramped eastward along the railroad
line for that first reunion after 15
years of absence and silence.

It was his absolute determination to meet his brother face to face and kill him, kill him as calmly and remorselessly as he himself had once killed cattle in the slaughter yards, because he had prospered while he was starving. What would come afterward he did not think or care.

For five nights and days he tramped along the railroad line, exulting at each remembered landmark for the vengeance which was to come to him.
A dusty tramp, disheveled, torn, a few coins dancing in his pockets as he tripped from tie to tie, the knife hidden in his sleeve which was to absolve his debt of hatred. In this wise
he reached the little village.

He stood still, rubbing his eyes in wonder. This his home site? Why, here was a factory town, with smoke belching from the tops of 20 tall chimneys.

Did anybody remember the old Byers homestead?
Yes, the saloonkeeper remembered
it. But he did not remember Jim in his tramp's clothes, with prison pul-ver upon his face. It had been sold and pulled down these ten years or more. Walter Byers? Why, that was the Byers' home, that red brick building on the hill yonder. He might get a job there possibly. Mr. Byers was always in need of hands in his factory.

Slowly Jim turned his face toward
his brother's house and toiled up the hill painfully. No matter, his work would soon be over. But when he reached the gate of the garden he stood still, staring into the face of a little girl who sat there, shading her eyes as she gazed cityward.

"Is Mr. Byers at home?" and he felt the steel beat a tattoo against the bare flesh of his arm.

"Father's not home yet," said the girl. "There's nobody home but me."
"So you're Walter Byers' daughter, are you? Have you any brothers and sisters?"

"No, there's only me. You're not my Uncle Jim, are you?"
She looked into his face frankly
and anxiously.

"No, I know you're not. Because you're so poor and Uncle Jim's rich.
He's coming home some day to take us by surprise. Only, you see, we're all so anxious for him to come, because father tried so hard for years
to find him, and we know he's making his fortune out in the west somewhere
and he'll come back again."

He had become a myth, the rich uncle who was to return some day to his devoted family! Jim heard incidents of his boyhood, exploits now greatly magnified, from his little niece's lips. And they were proud of him!

For the first time since he had left the penitentiary he laughed, then stopped and drew his sleeve across his eyes. He turned away.

"Won't you wait for father? He won't be long. Who shall I tell him called to see him?"

Jim straightened himself.
"Tell him a broken man who's gone out to fight the world again; to lift up his head and look it in the eye squarely. A man who's taken his beating and learned his lesson."

He turned and plunged down the
steep hill westward in the direction of the railroad line.

A farm in Central New York,
bought a few years ago for $15 an acre, produced two years later a crop of peas worth more than $50 an acre.
This incident, considered in conjunction with the fact that many farms
can be bought for even less than the value of the buildings standing on the land, is used in a bulletin by Commissioner Pearson of the state agricultural department to indicate the possibilities of agriculture in New York.

This publication also gives the value of crops in this state for a period of 40 years, showing that New York is the fourth state in agricultural importance. A significant feature of the statistics is that while in 1875 New York raised 35,000,000 bushels of potatoes, valued at $10,985,179, last year it produced 34,850,000 bushels, valued at $26,138,000. Similarly increased value is shown in other crops, while

ADA NORMAL FURNITURE CONTRACT LET

Divided Among Three Firms—Contract Amounts to $3,200.

Guthrie, Okla., May 12.—The state board of public affairs yesterday let the contracts for furniture for the Ada State Normal school.

The contract was divided among three furniture firms, the Guthrie school furniture factory securing a part of the contract. The entire contract amounted to $3,200.

I. & G. N. FORECLOSED TO SATISFY CREDITORS

Dallas, Tex., May 11.—The International and Great Northern Railroad is to be sold under foreclosure to satisfy the claims of the holders of second mortgage bonds aggregating $12,165,545.60. A final decree to this effect was issued in the federal court here late today.

The order of foreclosure is a termination of litigation pending for several years. It is provided in the decree that the sale shall be subject to first mortgage and unsatisfied receivers' obligations and to such claims against the railroad as may be decreed as having priority over the second mortgage.

Mind Reader in Jail.

Shawnee, Okla., May 10.—Pierce Hammack, nineteen years old, the son of a manufacturer, is in the city jail tonight, being held as a suspect pending an investigation of his actions that are said to be similar to those carried on by white slave traffickers. A complaint will be issued by the county attorney tomorrow.

Hammack says he is employed by the Franklin Theatrical company of Oklahoma City. He goes out soliciting girls through the process of mind reading and fortune telling. Two weeks ago he was ordered to stop his practices.

WAURIKA REJOICED OVER COUNTY SEAT DECISION

Waurika, Okla., May 10.—When news came from Guthrie today announcing that a supreme court decision has awarded the county seat of Jefferson county to Waurika, the schools were dismissed, business was suspended and the city took a holiday for jubilation. Children marched the streets with flags, bells rang, whistles blew and men and women shouted.

This is the final result of the second county seat fight. The temporary county seat was located by the constitutional convention at Ryan. Two elections in which the location of the permanent county seat was proposed resulted each in a contest. The last one was passed upon by a referee and the supreme court affirms the recommendations of the referee.

SUGAR TRUST APPEALS TO HIGHEST COURT

Results From Investigation by Federal Grand Jury in New York.

Washington, May 11.—Fighting for the preservation inviolate to corporations of the "immunity bath," the American Sugar Refining company today appealed to the supreme court of the United States for protection against the government. The controversy arises out of an investigation by a federal grand jury in New York.

The jury desired to examine two specified books of the corporation. Instead of issuing a subpoena to the secretary of the corporation or other official requiring him to appear with these books, United States Attorney Wise procured subpoena from Judge Holt directed to the corporation itself.

An attempt was made by the corporation to have Judge La Combe quash the subpoena. He declined and when the corporation failed to comply fined it $500 for contempt.

Judge La Combe said the procedure was no doubt a wholly novel practice. He added that corporations, unlike individuals, were not protected by the fifth amendment to the constitution, which provided that no person shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself.

Judge Le Combe said he was not prepared to assent to the proposition that the officer producing the books is entitled to volunteer testimony as to what the books contain, nor was the judge impressed with the argument that the corporation could not physically produce the books. He said obedience to the subpoena would be complete when a messenger brought the books and took them away after each session of the grand jury.

NO PROCLAMATION FOR THE NEW COUNTY

Swanson County Case Before a Referee—Fraudulent Election Claimed.

Guthrie, Okla., May 10.—Claude Stringer of Oklahoma City, was today appointed referee by Governor Haskell to take evidence in the Swanson county election case after an extended hearing at the governor's office, in which the Swanson county men urged him to issue his proclamation starting off the county, and the enemies of the new county that he declare the election void because of alleged frauds.

Stringer will take evidence in Snyder, at a time to be fixed. The anti-Swanson people are given until next Saturday to put their charges of fraud in writing and to file the same. Both sides were given time to briefs relative to the constitutional point involved in the fact that the portion of Comanche county involved voted heavily against the new county rather than 60 per cent in its favor.

The charge that negroes were brought in and voted at Snyder was repeated before the governor and denied by Snyder representatives who contend that the negroes worked at the big cotton mill in that town and were entitled to vote.

TEDDY SEES SHAM BATTLE.

First Civilian That Ever Reviewed German Troops—Salutes Each Command.

Berlin, May 11.—A sham fight in which 12,000 German soldiers of all arms took part, occupied the attention of Col. Roosevelt and Emperor William for several hours this morning. After the battle, which took place on the field at Doberitz, the whole body of troops paraded before the ex-president and the emperor, who were standing side by side some twenty paces in front of the gorgeous staff. They saluted the colors of the various commands, the emperor touching his helmet and Col. Roosevelt lifting his sombrero.

Speaking partly in English and partly in German, the emperor, turning to Col. Roosevelt, said:

"You are the first civilian who has reviewed our soldiers," and then to the German officers: "We are honored in having here the distinguished colonel of the Rough Riders."

The former president was five hours in the saddle, and spent much time talking with the emperor. They drew apart from the others and at times were exceedingly vehement in their gestures. Col. Roosevelt wore a dingy khaki uniform, while the emperor and his generals, in uniforms of blue with gold helmets, made a striking contrast.

RAILROAD CIRCLES STIRRED

WEST GOES AFTER SANTA FE. ASK CANCELLATION OF TITLE TO OKLAHOMA RIGHT OF WAY.

LIQUOR SHIPMENTS ATTACKED

Wants Permanent Injunction to Prevent Transportation Companies from Receiving Shipments to Holders of Federal Licenses.

Guthrie, Okla., May 11.—There was a stir in legal, railroad and political circles here tonight when it was learned that Attorney General West leaves for Washington tomorrow to institute original proceedings in the supreme court of the United States to cancel the title of the Santa Fe railroad to its right of way through Oklahoma, and to permanently enjoin all railroad and express companies from accepting interstate shipments of wet goods into Oklahoma to consignees holding internal revenue licenses to sell liquor.

The attorney general, without the least warning, has had the two big cases prepared and the papers are already packed for Washington. He goes in person to make the preliminary arguments.

The Santa Fe is attacked on the grounds that it is violating the terms of the contract by which the United States granted it a right of way through Oklahoma, in charging higher rates in Oklahoma than in Kansas on certain commodities, whereas the grant was of right of way on the condition that Oklahoma rates would never be higher than in neighboring states. The attorney general contends in his petition to the United States supreme court that by reason of the lower Kansas rates the grant of right of way has been violated and will ask that the patents be cancelled. The Santa Fe has approximately 786 miles of railroad in the state.

In the other case against shipments of intoxicants to Oklahoma purchasers who hold government licenses to sell the same is based on grounds fairly well known, since there has been much agitation both in state and federal courts around this point and Governor Haskell himself once addressed President Taft a communication relative to it. The attorney general, however, attacks the matter from a new standpoint in asking a permanent injunction that will prevent any transportation company from accepting shipments to such holders of internal revenue license in Oklahoma. That for such a plan to be successful will require that all railroads and express companies taking shipments to Oklahoma be furnished with a list of all internal revenue license in this state, is taken into consideration by the attorney general.

Outside of the importance of the matters involved in the two suits considerable interest is given this latest step of Attorney General West by the belief that he has received neither instructions nor permission to institute the proceedings. Also since the proceedings are to be initiated in the supreme court of the United States higher than which there is no court or authority, the governor is apparently left without recourse, should he think it best to hold up matters as he did in the famous case against the Prairie Oil and Gas company.

NATIONAL GUARDS SCORE MORE THAN THE REGULARS

Chandler, Ok., May 11.—Better averages has been made this week by the contesting teams of the Oklahoma National Guard than are usually made by the regular army, according to officers of the guard who looked over the figures. Lieut. Cullison of Enid, winner of the Miles gold medal last year, heads the fifteen high men today. Capt. Taulbee is second. Saturday the last elimination will be made and five officers and ten enlisted men will compose the team for the National competition. This team will contest with the Missouri team at Kansas City in July.

Soldier May Not Hang.

Topeka, May 10.—It will be determined by the department of justice next Saturday whether Charles O'Neal, the regular army soldier, will be handed at Leavenworth. Under the decree of the federal court the hanging is set for May 28. However, no preparations are being made by the United States marshal for the event, because he has received word from Washington that final action will be taken by the department of justice next Saturday. If the president does not commute the sentence to life imprisonment, then the scaffold will be built next week.

ROOSEVELT REPRESENTS U. S. AT KING'S FUNERAL

Washington, May 11.—The appointment of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt by President Taft as special ambassador to represent the United States at the funeral of King Edward in London, May 20; was officially announced today. Cablegrams were exchanged last night.

This is said to have been the first direct communication between President Taft and Colonel Roosevelt since the former's inauguration. The text of the cablegram follows:

"Washington, May 10, 1910.—Roosevelt, care American Embassy, Berlin: I should be very glad if you could act as special ambassador to represent the United States at the funeral of King Edward VII. I am sure that the English people will be highly gratified at your presence in this capacity and that our people will strongly approve it. Have as yet received no official notice of the date of the funeral, but it is reported that it will take place on the 20th of this month. Please answer.

"William H. Taft."

JAMES J. HILL COMMENTS ON KING'S DEATH

Spokane, Wash., May 12.—James J. Hill, chairman of the executive board of the Great Northern Railway company, who was in Spokane with a party of eastern financiers and railroad officials when the death of King Edward was officially announced, said in an interview that the passing of his majesty is a blow to the business world at large. He added:

"England is a mighty force. Her influence extends to all corners of the world, and the United States in particular knows the effect of her financial affairs and the progress or hindrance that is occasioned by the steady manipulation of English money and influence. The death of King Edward is extremely effective and unfortunate, coming at this time. I would not make a gloomy prediction, but I feel that the effect will not be for good."

In another interview Mr. Hill said: "I see no cloud in the sky as big as my hand for the prosperity of the United States."

Aged Woman Burned at Mangum.

Mangum, Ok., May 11.—A tenant house on the farm of Joe McReynolds, three miles south of Mangum with contents and Mrs. Mary Ard, 80 years old, burned this afternoon.

An explosion of coal oil is supposed to have started the fire. Mrs. Ard returned to the house after it was burning fiercely, presumably to save something of value.

Is Chorus Cried, Give Us Newbro's Herpicide.

This word of late has been in everyone's mouth, and many are wondering what the word signifies, though no one has yet been found, who will deny that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE does the work. Well, for the information of thousands of people who like to know all about a good thing, we would say that HERPICIDE means, a destroyer or killer of "Herpes." Now "Herpes" is the family name of a disease caused by various vegetable parasites. A similar microbe causes dandruff, itching scalp, and falling hair; this is the microbe that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE promptly destroys; after which the hair grows. Sold by leading druggists. ANTIS WILL NOT PRO-TEST RE-SUBMISSION

By Agreement in Enabling Act Saloons Can Not Be Placed in Indian Territory Part of State.

Guthrie, Ok., May 11.—Superintendent Conger of the Anti-Saloon League stated today that no objections will be raised against the state petitions of the re-submissionists in the matter of the proposed prohibition election.

"We feel there is a constitutional objection to the election," he said, "and are only interested in defeating the movement on fundamental ground. By reason of a solemn agreement made between the people of Oklahoma and the federal government when statehood was given, it would be impossible to put the saloon in the Indian Territory part of the state at least."

Gov. Haskell was quoted today as saying that he would refuse to issue a proclamation for an election re-submitting the prohibition question for the same reasons as those given by Superintendent Conger and in keeping with the governor's statement issued when the petitions were filed.

In event further action by the government is necessary, his refusal means that the petitioners will apply to the supreme court for a mandamus to compel the performance of this duty.

Another phase of the situation is presented in the probability of an application on the part of prohibitionists to the federal court to prevent an election or prevent the enforcement of the initiated bill should it carry before the people. In this proceeding the issue of whether the people can revoke an obligation made by the constitutional convention, prohibitionists say, will be squarely presented.

WATERS-PIERCE MAY SETTLE WITHOUT TRIAL

Guthrie, Ok., May 11.—The statement is made today that a settlement between the state and the Waters-Pierce Oil Company as to litigation pending in the Garfield County District Court is probable, which would prevent the trial set for May 23.

The company has been endeavoring to make a settlement with the state for some months, but its attorneys and the Attorney General were unable to agree upon the terms.

Had Planned a Big Steal, Trapped and Killed.

Wewoka, Okla., May 10.—Miller, who has lived for years in this section of the Indian country, but about whose former life or kin little is known, was shot and killed at the edge of Clay Alexander's pasture, near Beardon, last night about 9 o'clock, by officers who intercepted his plans to steal a horse. As Miller led the horse out of the pasture Deputy Sheriffs Cy Cope and Bras Adams approached. They commanded that he halt, but he fired instead. The officers returned the fire, and Miller fell, shooting two more shots after he was down. He expired in a short time. The officers were not injured.

Miller about ten days ago approached William Coff, at his home, near Beardon, and asked him to assist in making a "load out," a vernacular term for horse stealing. Coff agreed and Miller planned the coup. In the meantime Coff informed the officers and had them on the spot ready for the arrest of Miller before he left with the horse. Coff led the horse nearly to the fence and then retired, pushing Miller forward just as the officers rode up.

UMPIRE—A GIRL KNOWS THE GAME THOROUGHLY

Orange, N. J. May 10.—Clad in a natty sweater, white cap and blue skirt, Louise Davis, teacher of the fifth grade in the Cleveland street school, umpired a game of base ball between the boys of her class and the Park avenue school team.

Miss Davis was in her school days a base ball player, preferring the boys' game to any of the girls' amusements. Now she is a well-posted fan, keeping tab on the players of the big leagues. She knows the rule book from cover to cover, and her decisions can always be backed up. Her work in the school game was watched by several men teachers, who were plainly surprised at her work, and congratulated her after the game was over.

TAFT PAYS TRIBUTE TO FOREIGN HEROES

Delivered Eulogy at Pulaski Monument Showing Gratitude.

Washington, May 11.—President Taft today paid tribute to the foreign soldiers who helped the United States to win independence. He attended the unveiling during the afternoon of the statues of Pulaski and Kosciuszko, the former at Thirteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue and the latter in LaFayette Square. Mr. Taft delivered the eulogy at the Pulaski monument with Secretary of War Dickinson was the principal speaker at the Kosciuszko ceremonies.

The president said:

"It is idle to speculate what might have been the success of American arms in the war of the Revolution had we not been assisted by foreign nations and subjects of foreign countries. It is sufficient for us to note that those who assisted us in that struggle of our for independence and liberty contributed materially to our success. Hence, to La Fayette, to Rochambeau, to Von Steuben, to DeKalb, to Pulaski, to Kosciuszko and to others it is fitting that there should be erected monuments like this to have it understood that America is grateful and holds in sweet memory those who came to her in her hour of danger and of trouble.

When Count Pulaski came here the American army practically had no cavalry, and to him, with the permission of Washington and with the vote of congress, was turned over the question of the organization of a cavalry force.

"Subsequently, organizing an independent legion known as "Pulaski's legion," he fought his way from north to south until finally after taking part in the campaign about Charleston he lost his life in a brilliant charge at the siege of Savannah, and was, as the distinguished orator who preceded me said, suitably buried in the bosom of the ocean from a frigate of the United States.

"Could he have looked forward to the coming to this country of three millions of his Polish fellow-citizens could he have seen them taking their honorable part in the American electorate, could he have seen the welcome they have received, the prosperity they have added, the strength that they have given to this country and the happiness that they have found under the starry banner that he labored to make triumphant, he would indeed have felt that his labors were not in vain."

MERCHANT WHO KILLED BURGLAR ACQUITTED

McAlester, Ok., May 11.—J. M. Latham, merchant and ex-Alderman, who shot and killed a burglar in his store Sunday night, demanded today that he be formerly arrested and tried. This was done. He waived preliminary examination before a justice in formation was filed in the superior court, a special venire issued for a jury and he was tried this afternoon and acquitted. He desired that the record be made to show his justification.

COAL LAND BILL PASSES HOUSE

CONCURS.

OPPOSITION IN THE SENATE

Great Scheme to Let Surface Owners Grab the Coal Supply.

Washington, D. C., May 11.—If the senate concurs in the action taken by the house this afternoon the surface of the segregated coal and asphalt lands belonging to the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations in Oklahoma, 480,000 acres will be sold to settlers.

While the house had under consideration the Burke omnibus Indian bill, Representative McGuire of Oklahoma, offered this amendment: "Provide that the secretary of the interior shall under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe sell exclusive of mineral rights the surface of the segregated coal and asphalt lands of the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations in Oklahoma, and place the proceeds therefrom to the credit of said tribes of Indians in the treasury of the United States."

McGuire Amends Bill.

After a brief explanation of the amendment by Mr. McGuire, it was adopted without opposition. The Burke bill later was passed with the amendment. The bill will now go to the senate where it, probably will encounter opposition from members of the Indian committee of that body. Several attempts have been made during the past five years to put through a bill providing for the sale of the surface of the coal lands, but without success.

Several senators have objected to such legislation on the grounds that it would not provide sufficient protection to the Indians. The coal deposits are said to be worth forty millions at a low estimate and precautions have been taken to prevent railroads and syndicates from defrauding the tribes. Despite the fact that the McGuire amendment provides for the sale of the surface lands only the question of whether it protects the rights of the Indians to mineral will be raised.

Gore Has Bill.

Senator Gore during the day introduced a somewhat similar bill in the senate. Under the provisions of the Gore bill prospective settlers may acquire 160 acres of land on long time payments and with five per cent interest charges. There is also a contingency provision in connection with the future sale of the underlying mineral fashioned after the administration conservation bill. It recognized the right of prospective purchasers to enter upon the land for the purpose of prospecting for coal or asphalt, but only after satisfactory security is filed with the secretary of the interior, such an arrangement, it is thought would secure to the farmer payment of all damages to the crops and improvements on lands affected by prospecting operations.

The right to use so much of the surface as may be necessary for legitimate mining purposes is also provided for, but mine owners must reimburse the landlords for its use.

Position Explained.

Senator Gore stated today that he introduced the bill because it was evident that the republican majority in the house was not disposed to favor winding up the affairs of the Five Civilized Tribes at this session and that he believed in getting a half loaf rather than none. The interior department is on record as favoring the sale of the surface at this time.

There was also added to the Burke bill provisions inserted in the Cregar Five Tribes bill by Representative Carter. This amendment would make retroactive that part of the restrictions act of 1908 bearing upon the property of deceased Indians. Considerable property is affected by the provisions as follows: "Conveyances made by full-blood heirs subsequent to July 27, 1908, of allotments where the allottee died prior to May 27, 1908, shall have the same effect as if the allottee had died subsequent to May 27, 1908, and without requiring the approval of the secretary of the interior."

Ferris Is Opposed.

Representative Scott Ferris also took a fling at what he called "reactionary" legislation. He succeeded in having eliminated from the bill a provision which would make it impossible for every restricted Indian in the United States save only the Five Tribes to sell their personal property. He pointed out that almost every western banker and business man had taken chattel mortgages on an Indian's pony or live stock and that a great convenience to the Indians had resulted. The Indian office is in favor of this national restriction upon the Indians. Chairman Burke finally agreed to let the provision go out of the bill.

An attempt to repeal an old old law which provides for an allotment of Indians on the public domain failed. This provision, it is thought, will some day be made use of by Indians who for one reason or another failed to establish their rights to allotments in the Five Tribes and elsewhere.

The Burke bill was also amended in order that state banks may become depositories for Indian moneys. Heretofore only national banks have enjoyed this business. It is estimated that in Oklahoma alone several million dollars may be transferred from national to state banks, if the proper security is forthcoming.

The Laborers' Loss, the Railroads' Gain.

Guthrie, Okla., May 11.—Chas. L. Daugherty of the State Department of Labor, who has just returned to the capital from Norman, tells of a situation that exists in that city, which illustrates one of the effects of the recent Hook decision.

It appears from Mr. Daugherty's statement that a certain paving company having its offices in another state, had recently taken a contract with the city of Norman to put in a lot of paving. In due time this work was inaugurated and the company employed a large number of workmen. Under the law of the state any company employing laborers must pay them the wages common to the community in which the work is being done. It was reported to Mr. Daugherty that this law was being violated; so he went to Norman forthwith to make an investigation.

At Norman Mr. Daugherty found that the paving company had taken the contract before Judge Hook rendered his decision, and that they had figured their contract on the basis of the freight rates in operation at that time. They had figured on using a great quantity of asphaltum from Ardmore, the freight on which at that time was 52c per ton. Immediately upon the renderings of the Hook decision the railroads advanced the rates on asphaltum to $1.50—an increase of approximately 200 per cent. This increase compelled the paving company to cut their expenses, so they reduced the wages of their employees from $2.00 per day to $1.75 per day. The officials of the company told Mr. Daugherty that they were perfectly willing to pay current prices for labor, but to do so in view of the increased freight rates would cause them to lose heavily on their contract. Under the law however, they were compelled to restore the wages of employees to the former figure and to bear loss themselves.

ICE BREAKS ON KLONDYKE.

Damage Threatened From Jams in River Near Dawson.

Dawson, Yukon Territory, May 10.—The ice on the Klondyke river broke up yesterday and a big jam formed at the Ogilvie steel bridge, a mile below here. The ice was piled up to a height of ten feet and the water was backed up over the flats. Several houses were floated from their foundations and carried down stream. Two feet of water ran through the big shops of the Yukon Gold Company, which cover several acres and were just completed. The pressure against the steel bridge is terrific, and if the jam does not break up soon, there is danger of the bridge being carried out.

Jim Faunt Le Roy went to Holdenville this morning. He has accepted a position with Hamilton Drug Co.

studies of the ancients we have in
this latter day added many improvements. Solar chemistry has resulted
from one of the most wonderful discoveries of all times—the spectro-
scope
About a year ago the astronomers
of the world began to predict the ex-
act day, and nearly the exact hour
when Halley's great comet would
again visit our planetary system after
limit of all known stellar space. With
an exactitude that is almost uncanny
this wonderful comet came on scheduled time and on May 18 the earth
will pass through its luminous tail.
Already the men of science have
studied this comet from all the ob-
is the fact that a spectrum analysis
of its tail reassures us that no damage to the earth may be expected
tact with the components of the
comet's gaseous appendage
Interesting and deeply impressive
develops to the human eye. Thanks
to the astronomers we of the civilized world are prepared for the sight.
We have been notified long in advance of the exact nature of this solar phenomenon and we are not afraid. But in all parts of the world there are ignorant and super-
into paroxysms of fear. Even in this country with the wide spread publicized world has been given to everything connected with the comet there
of the world is at hand. In ordinary
times when there is no visible comet
there are frequent demonstrations
among certain religious and superstitious sects that take up some casual disaster—a flood or a conflagra-
tion—and make it the basis of a pre-
destroyed. But our old earth has
been wagging along in security for
many millions of years and Halley's
comet has come and gone countless
times, yet insofar as we know no
harm has ever resulted and human

Kansas City, May 11.—To shield
respectable residence districts of the city from the baleful gleam of the
red light the board of police commissioners will segregate vice
Solon T. Gilmore and Thomas R.
Marks made a tour yesterday of certain portions of the district roughly
bounded by Tenth street, Kersey Coates terrace, Oak street and the
that section, recognized as tough in bygone years that the scarlet element had been crowded out by the Italian colony. These people are in-
bought homes. They do not want to bring their children up in a bad environment. Every day complaints are made to the board of the scarlet invasion in districts formerly free from
undesirables
We learned much on our trip
said Commissioner Gilmore last night
but no decision was reached. If possible we want to establish a segregated district. We cannot legalize but we can regulate. Undesirable characters must be moved from districts over which they have scattered. Other
proposed district should be is a matted that calls for the exercise
of care and judgment. The police
commissioners have their own opinions, but before we fully decide we

Chayenne Pepper Vinegar.
This is an enemy to microbes, and
has been sent to many of the soldiers
in the Philippines. The ingredients
called for are one pint cider vinegar,
one-half ounce cayenne pepper, two
teaspoonfuls walnut catsup, a clove
the garlic and put the rest of the ingredients in a large glass, can or bottle. Allow it to infuse for a month,
strain, bottle and seal

Butter Taffy.
Put into a granite saucepan a cup
and a half of light brown sugar, three teaspoonfuls of molasses, a tablespoonful and a half each of hot water
and vinegar and a pinch of salt. Cook
water. Add three tablespoonfuls of
butter, cook a moment, add a table-
spoonful of vanilla and pour into a shallow buttered pan. When cool mark into squares.

Velvet Cream.
One pint cream, whipped stiff, add
one and one-half tablespoonfuls of gelatin. Soak the gelatin in a little hot water until dissolved. One teaspoon-
cupful of chopped pecans, one-half cupful of candied pineapple cut up, one-half cupful candied cherries chopped.

Open a can of corn, empty into a saucepan and cover with water. Let
come to a boil, add plenty of sweet
a colander to remove the coarse part
of the corn. Return to the fire, sea-

The Prodigal
Uncle
By HAROLD CARTER

It was during the second term in
the penitentiary that the great plan
first came into Jim Byers' head. At first it was only a thought that stole
upon him during the night, while he
tossed uneasily upon his plain bed,
then a desire, suddenly a mighty and
fulfilled
When he was freed prison societies
came to him and offered him help.
But he refused and started on his
tramp eastward with the little money
that he had earned. First he must
fulfill his determination
It was 150 miles up state to the old
home where his brother—the rich
man—still lived. Walter had stayed
at home and prospered, and was always spoken of as a prospective mil-
prodigal, the jailbird, the broken man,
tramped eastward along the railroad
line for that first reunion after 15
years of absence and silence
meet his brother face to face and kill
him, kill him as calmly and remorse-
lessly as he himself had once killed
cattle in the slaughter yards, because
he had prospered while he was starv-
ing. What would come afterward he did not think or care
For five nights and days he tramped
along the railroad line, exulting at
each remembered landmark for the
A dusty tramp, disheveled, torn, a few
tripped from tie to tie, the knife hid den in his sleeve which was to ab-
solve his debt of hatred. In this wise
he reached the little village
He stood still, rubbing his eyes in wonder. This his home, this? Why, here was a factory town, with smoke
neys
Did anybody remember the old By-
ers homestead?
Yes, the saloonkeeper remembered
it. But he did not remember Jim in his tramp's clothes, with prison scars upon his face. It had been sold and pulled down these ten years or more. Walter Byers? Why, that was
the Byers home, that red brick building on the hill yonder. He might get
always in need of hands in his factory.
Slowly Jim turned his face toward
his brother's house and toiled up the hill painfully. No matter, his work would soon be over. But when he
stood still, staring into the face of a little girl who sat there, shading her
eyes as she gazed cityward
"Is Mr. Byers at home?" and he felt the steel beat a tattoo against the
bare flesh of his arm
"Father's not home yet," said the
"So you're Walter Byers' daughter, are you? Have you any brothers and sisters?"
"No, there's only me. You're not my Uncle Jim, are you?"
She looked into his face frankly
and anxiously
"No, I know you're not. Because you're so poor and Uncle Jim's rich.
He's coming home some day to take
us by surprise. Only, you see, we're
all so anxious for him to come, because father tried so hard for years
to find him, and we know he's making
his fortune out in the west somewhere
and he'll come back again."
He had become a myth, the rich
his devoted family. Jim heard incidents of his boyhood, exploits now
greatly magnified, from his little niece's lips. And they were proud of him!
For the first time since he had left
the penitentiary he laughed, then
stopped and drew his sleeve across
his eyes. "He turned away."
"Won't you wait for father? He won't be long. Who shall I tell him called to see him?"
Jim straightened himself.
"Tell him a broken man who's gone
out to fight the world again, to lift up
his head and look it in the eye
squarely. A man who's taken his beating and learned his lesson."
He turned and plunged down the
steep hill westward in the direction
of the railroad line
A farm in Central New York,
bought a few years ago for $15 an
acre, produced two years later a crop
of peas worth more than $50 an acre.
This incident, considered in conjunc-
can be bought for even less than the
land, is used in a bulletin by Com-
cultural department to indicate the possibilities of agriculture in New York
This publication also gives the value of crops in this state for a period
of 40 years, showing that New York
is the fourth state in agricultural importance. A significant feature of the
York raised 35,000,000 bushels of potatoes, valued at $10,985,173, last year
it produced 34,850,000 bushels, valued
at $26,138,000. Similarly increased
value is shown in other crops, while
the volume is about the same

Divided Among Three Firms—Contract Amounts to $3,200.

Guthrie, Okla., May 12.—The state board of public affairs yesterday let the contracts for furniture for the Ada State Normal school.
The contract was divided among three furniture firms, the Guthrie school furniture factory securing a part of the contract. The entire contract amounted to $3,200.

I. & G. N. FORECLOSED TO SATISFY CREDITORS

Dallas, Tex., May 11.—The International and Great Northern Railroad is to be sold under foreclosure to satisfy the claims of the holders of second mortgage bonds aggregating $12,165,545.60. A final decree to this effect was issued in the federal court here late today.

The order of foreclosure is a termination of litigation pending for several years. It is provided in the decree that the sale shall be subject to first mortgage and unsatisfied receivers' obligations and to such claims against the railroad as may be decreed as having priority over the second mortgage.

Shawnee, Okla., May 10.—Pierce Hammack, nineteen years old, the son of a manufacturer, is in the city jail tonight, being held as a suspect pending an investigation of his actions that are said to be similar to those carried on by white slave traffickers. A complaint will be issued by the county attorney tomorrow.

Hammack says he is employed by the Franklin Theatrical company of Oklahoma City. He goes out soliciting girls through the process of mind reading and fortune telling. Two weeks ago he was ordered to stop his practices.

WAURIKA REJOICED OVER COUNTY SEAT DECISION

Waurika, Okla., May 10.—When news came from Guthrie today announcing that a supreme court decision has awarded the county seat of Jefferson county to Waurika, the schoolers were dismissed, business was suspended and the city took a holiday for jubilation. Children marched the streets with flags, bells rang, whistles blew and men and women shouted.

This is the final result of the second county seat fight. The temporary county seat was located by the constitutional convention at Ryan. Two elections in which the location of the permanent county seat was proposed resulted each in a contest. The last one was passed upon by a referee and the supreme court affirms the recommendations of the referee.

Washington, May 11.—Fighting for the preservation inviolate to corporations of the "immunity bath," the American Sugar Refining company today appealed to the supreme court of the United States for protection against the government. The controversy arises out of an investigation by a federal grand jury in New York.

The jury desired to examine two specified books of the corporation. Instead of issuing a subpoena to the secretary of the corporation or other official requiring him to appear with these books, United States Attorney Wise procured subpoena from Judge Holt directed to the corporation itself.

An attempt was made by the corporation to have Judge La Combe quash the subpoena. He declined and when the corporation failed to comply fined it $500 for contempt.

Judge La Combe said the procedure was no doubt a wholly novel practice. He added that corporations, unlike individuals, were not protected by the fifth amendment to the constitution, which provided that no person shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself.

Judge Le Combe said he was not prepared to assent to the proposition that the officer producing the books is entitled to volunteer testimony as to what the books contain, nor was the judge impressed with the argument that the corporation could not physically produce the books. He said obedience to the subpoena would be complete when a messenger brought the books and took them away after each session of the grand jury.

Swanson County Case Before a Referee—Proclamation Election Claimed.

Guthrie, Okla., May 10.—Claude Stringer of Oklahoma City, was today appointed referee by Governor Haskell to take evidence in the Swanson county election case after an extended hearing at the governor's office, in which the Swanson county men urged him to issue his proclamation starting off the county, and the enemies of the new county that he declare the election void because of alleged frauds.

Stringer will take evidence in Snyder, at a time to be fixed. The anti-Swanson people are given until next Saturday to put their charges of fraud in writing and to file the same. Both sides were given time to briefs relative to the constitutional point involved in the fact that the portion of Comanche county involved voted heavily against the new county rather than 60 per cent in its favor.

The charge that negroes were brought in and voted at Snyder was repeated before the governor and denied by Snyder representatives who contend that the negroes worked at the big cotton mill in that town and were entitled to vote.

TEDDY SEES SHAM BATTLE.

First Civilian That Ever Reviewed German Troops—Salutes Each Command.

Berlin, May 11.—A sham fight in which 12,000 German soldiers of all arms took part, occupied the attention of Col. Roosevelt and Emperor William for several hours this morning. After the battle, which took place on the field at Doeberitz, the whole body of troops paraded before the ex-president and the emperor, who were standing side by side some twenty paces in front of the gorgeous staff. They saluted the colors of the various commands, the emperor touching his helmet and Col. Roosevelt lifting his sombrero.

Speaking partly in English and partly in German, the emperor, turning to Col. Roosevelt, said:

The former president was five hours in the saddle, and spent much time talking with the emperor. They drew apart from the others and at times were exceedingly vehement in their gestures. Col. Roosevelt wore a dingy khaki uniform, while the emperor and his generals, in uniforms of blue with gold helmets, made a striking contrast.

Wants Permanent Injunction to Prevent Transportation Companies from Receiving Shipments to Holders of Federal Licenses.

Guthrie, Okla., May 11.—There was a stir in legal, railroad and political circles here tonight when it was learned that Attorney General West leaves for Washington tomorrow to institute original proceedings in the supreme court of the United States to cancel the title of the Santa Fe railroad to its right of way through Oklahoma, and to permanently enjoin all railroad and express companies from accepting interstate shipments of wet goods into Oklahoma to consignees holding internal revenue licenses to sell liquor.

The attorney general, without the least warning, has had the two big cases prepared and the papers are already packed for Washington. He goes in person to make the preliminary arguments.

The Santa Fe is attacked on the grounds that it is violating the terms of the contract by which the United States granted it a right of way through Oklahoma, in charging higher rates in Oklahoma than in Kansas on certain commodities, whereas the grant was of right of way on the condition that Oklahoma rates would never be higher than in neighboring states. The attorney general contends in his petition to the United States supreme court that by reason of the lower Kansas rates the grant of right of way has been violated and will ask that the patents be cancelled. The Santa Fe has approximately 736 miles of railroad in the state.

In the other case against shipments of intoxicants to Oklahoma purchasers who hold government licenses to sell the same is based on grounds fairly well known, since there has been much agitation both in state and federal courts around this point and Governor Haskell himself once addressed President Taft a communication relative to it. The attorney general, however, attacks the matter from a new standpoint in asking a permanent injunction that will prevent any transportation company from accepting shipments to such holders of internal revenue license in Oklahoma. That for such a plan to be successful will require that all railroads and express companies taking shipments to Oklahoma be furnished with a list of all internal revenue license in this state, is taken into consideration by the attorney general.

Outside of the importance of the matters involved in the two suits considerable interest is given this latest step of Attorney General West by the belief that he has received neither instructions from Governor Haskell concerning nor permission to institute the proceedings. Also since the proceedings are to be initiated in the supreme court of the United States higher than which there is no court or authority, the governor is apparently left without recourse, should he think it best to hold up matters as he did in the famous case against the Prairie Oil and Gas company.

Chandler, Ok., May 11.—Better averages has been made this week by the contesting teams of the Oklahoma National Guard than are usually made by the regular army, according to officers of the guard who looked over the figures. Lieut. Cullison of Enid, winner of the Miles gold medal last year, heads the fifteen high men today. Capt. Tallabee is second. Saturday the last elimination will be made and five officers and ten enlisted men will compose the team for the National competition. This team will contest with the Missouri team at Kansas City in July.

Soldier May Not Hang.

Tapeka, May 10.—It will be determined by the department of justice next Saturday whether Charles O'Neal, the regular army soldier, will be hanged at Leavenworth. Under the decree of the federal court the hanging is set for May 23. However, no preparations are being made by the United States marshal for the event, because he has received word from Washington that final action will be taken by the department of justice next Saturday. If the president does not commute the sentence to life imprisonment, then the scaffold will be built next week.

ROOSEVELT REPRESENTS U. S. AT KING'S FUNERAL

Washington, May 11.—The appointment of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt by President Taft as special ambassador to represent the United States at the funeral of King Edward in London, May 20; was officially announced today. Cablegrams were exchanged last night.

This is said to have been the first direct communication between President Taft and Colonel Roosevelt since the former's inauguration. The text of the cablegram follows:

"Washington, May 10, 1910.—Roosevelt, care American Embassy, Berlin: I should be very glad if you could act as special ambassador to represent the United States at the funeral of King Edward VII. I am sure that the English people will be highly gratified at your presence in this capacity and that our people will strongly approve it. Have as yet received no official notice of the date of the funeral, but it is reported that it will take place on the 20th of this month. Please answer.

"William H. Taft."

JAMES J. HILL COMMENTS ON KING'S DEATH

Spokane, Wash., May 12.—James J. Hill, chairman of the executive board of the Great Northern Railway company, who was in Spokane with a party of eastern financiers and railroad officials when the death of King Edward was officially announced, said in an interview that the passing of his majesty is a blow to the business world at large. He added:

"England is a mighty force. Her influence extends to all corners of the world, and the United States in particular knows the effect of her financial affairs and the progress or hindrance that is occasioned by the steady manipulation of English money and influence. The death of King Edward is extremely effective and unfortunate, coming at this time. I would not make a gloomy prediction, but I feel that the effect will not be for good."

Aged Woman Burned at Mangum.

Mangum, Ok., May 11.—A tenant house on the farm of Joe McReynolds, three miles south of Mangum with contents and Mrs. Mary Ard, 80 years old, burned this afternoon. An explosion of coal oil is supposed to have started the fire. Mrs. Ard returned to the house after it was burning fiercely, presumably to save something of value.

THE PEOPLE ALL

Is Chorus Cried. Give Us Newbuds Herpicide.

This word of late has been in everybody's mouth, and many are wondering what the word signifies, though no one has yet been found, who will deny that NEWBUD'S HERPICIDE does the work. Well, for the information of thousands of people who like to know all about a good thing, we would say that HERPICIDE means, a destroyer or killer of "Herpes." Now "Herpes" is the family name of a disease caused by various vegetable parasites. A similar microbe causes dandruff, itching scalp, and falling hair; this is the microbe that NEWBUD'S HERPICIDE promptly destroys; after which the hair grows. Sold by leading druggists. WILL NOT PRO-TEST RE-SUBMISSION

By Agreement in Enabling Act Saloons Can Not Be Placed in Indian Territory Part of State.

Guthrie, Ok., May 11.—Superintendent Conger of the Anti-Saloon League stated today that no objections will be raised against the state petitions of the re-submissionists in the matter of the proposed prohibition election.

"We feel there is a constitutional objection to the election," he said, "and are only interested in defeating the movement on fundamental ground. By reason of a solemn agreement made between the people of Oklahoma and the federal government when statehood was given, it would be impossible to put the saloon in the Indian Territory part of the state at least."

Gov. Haskell was quoted today as saying that he would refuse to issue a proclamation for an election re-submitting the prohibition question for the same reasons as those given by Superintendent Conger and in keeping with the governor's statement issued when the petitions were filed.

In event further action by the government is necessary, his refusal means that the petitioners will apply to the supreme court for a mandamus to compel the performance of this duty.

Another phase of the situation is presented in the probability of an application on the part of prohibitionists to the federal court to prevent an election or prevent the enforcement of the initiated bill should it carry before the people. In this proceeding the issue of whether the people can revoke an obligation made by the constitutional convention, prohibitionists say, will be squarely presented.

WATERS-PIERCE MAY SETTLE WITHOUT TRIAL

Guthrie, Ok., May 11.—The statement is made today that a settlement between the state and the Waters-Pierce Oil Company as to litigation pending in the Garfield County District Court is probable, which would prevent the trial set for May 23.

The company has been endeavoring to make a settlement with the state for some months, but its attorneys and the Attorney General were unable to agree upon the terms.

Wewoka, Okla., May 10.—Miller, who has lived for years in this section of the Indian country, but about whose former life or kin little is known, was shot and killed at the edge of Clay Alexander's pasture, near Beardon, last night about 9 o'clock, by officers who intercepted his plans to steal a horse. As Miller led the horse out of the pasture Deputy Sheriffs Cy Cope and Bras Adams approached. They commanded that he halt, but he fired instead. The officers returned the fire, and Miller fell, shooting two more shots after he was down. He expired in a short time. The officers were not injured.

Miller about ten days ago approached William Coff, at his home, near Beardon, and asked him to assist in making a "load out," a vernacular term for horse stealing. Coff agreed and Miller planned the coup. In the meantime Coff informed the officers and had them on the spot ready for the arrest of Miller before he left with the horse. Coff led the horse nearly to the fence and then retired, pushing Miller forward just as the officers rode up.

UMPIRE—A GIRL KNOWS THE GAME THOROUGHLY

Orange, N. J., May 10.—Clad in a natty sweater, white cap and blue skirt, Louise Davis, teacher of the fifth grade in the Cleveland street school, umpired a game of base ball between the boys of her class and the Park avenue school team.

Miss Davis was in her school days a base ball player, preferring the boys' game to any of the girls' amusements. Now she is a well-posted fan, keeping tab on the players of the big leagues. She knows the rule book from cover to cover, and her decisions can always be backed up. Her work in the school game was watched by several men teachers, who were plainly surprised at her work, and congratulated her after the game was over.

Washington, May 11.—President Taft today paid tribute to the foreign soldiers who helped the United States to win independence. He attended the unveiling during the afternoon of the statues of Pulaski and Kosciuszko, the former at Thirteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue and the latter in LaFayette Square. Mr. Taft delivered the eulogy at the Pulaski monument with Secretary of War Dickinson was the principal speaker at the Kosciuszko ceremonies.

The president said: "It is idle to speculate what might have been the success of American arms in the war of the Revolution had we not been assisted by foreign nations and subjects of foreign countries. It is sufficient for us to note that those who assisted us in that struggle of our for independence and liberty contributed materially to our success. Hence, to La Fayette, to Rochambeau, to Von Steuben, to DeKalb, to Pulaski, to Kosciuszko and to others it is fitting that there should be erected monuments like this to have it understood that America is grateful and holds in sweet memory those who came to her in her hour of danger and of trouble.

When Count Pulaski came here the American army practically had no cavalry, and to him, with the permission of Washington and with the vote of congress, was turned over the question of the organization of a cavalry force.

"Subsequently, organizing an independent legion known as 'Pulaski's legion' he fought his way from north to south until finally after taking part in the campaign about Charleston he lost his life in a brilliant charge at the siege of Savannah, and was, as the distinguished orator who preceded me said, suitably buried in the bosom of the ocean from a frigate of the United States.

Chivalric of race and of knightly form, brave, dashing, courageous, but gentle as a woman, sweet in all the associations of life, there hangs about him all the romance of ancient knighthood.

"Could he have looked forward to the coming to this country of three millions of his Polish fellow-citizens could he have seen them taking their honorable part in the American electorate, could he have seen the welcome they have received, the prosperity they have added, the strength that they have given to this country and the happiness that they have found under the starry banner that he labored to make triumphant, he would indeed have felt that his labors were not in vain."

MERCHANT WHO KILLED BURGLAR ACQUITTED

McAlester, Ok., May 11.—J. M. Latham, merchant and ex-Alderman, who shot and killed a burglar in his store Sunday night, demanded today that he be formerly arrested and tried. This was done. He waived preliminary examination before a justice in formation was filed in the superior court, a special venire issued for a jury and he was tried this afternoon and acquitted. He desired that the record be made to show his justification.

Great Scheme to Let Surface Owners Grab the Coal Supply.

Washington, D. C., May 11.—If the senate concurs in the action taken by the house this afternoon the surface of the segregated coal and asphalt lands belonging to the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations in Oklahoma, 486,000 acres will be sold to settlers.

While the house had under consideration the Burke omnibus Indian bill, Representative McGuire of Oklahoma, offered this amendment: "Provide that the secretary of the interior shall under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe sell exclusive of mineral rights the surface of the segregated coal and asphalt lands of the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations in Oklahoma, and place the proceeds therefrom to the credit of said tribes of Indians in the treasury of the United States."

McGuire Amends Bill.
After a brief explanation of the amendment by Mr. McGuire, it was adopted without opposition. The Burke bill later was passed with the amendment. The bill will now go to the senate where it, probably will encounter opposition from members of the Indian committee of that body. Several attempts have been made during the past five years to put through a bill providing for the sale of the surface of the coal lands, but without success.

Several senators have objected to such legislation on the grounds that it would not provide sufficient protection to the Indians. The coal deposits are said to be worth forty millions at a low estimate and precautions have been taken to prevent railroads and syndicates from defrauding the tribes. Despite the fact that the McGuire amendment provides for the sale of the surface lands only the question of whether it protects the rights of the Indians to mineral will be raised.

Gore Has Bill.

Senator Gore during the day introduced a somewhat similar bill in the senate. Under the provisions of the Gore bill prospective settlers may acquire 160 acres of land on long time payments and with five percent interest charges. There is also a contingency provision in connection with the future sale of the underlying mineral fashioned after the administration conservation bill. It recognized the right of prospective purchasers to enter upon the land for the purpose of prospecting for coal or asphalt, but only after satisfactory security is filed with the secretary of the interior, such an arrangement, it is thought would secure to the farmer payment of all damages to the crops and improvements on lands affected by prospecting operations.

The right to use so much of the surface as may be necessary for legitimate mining purposes is also provided for, but mine owners must reimburse the landlords for its use.

Position Explained.

Senator Gore stated today that he introduced the bill because it was evident that the republican majority in the house was not disposed to favor winding up the affairs of the Five Civilized Tribes at this session and that he believed in getting a half loaf rather than none. The interior department is on record as favoring the sale of the surface at this time.

There was also added to the Burke bill provisions inserted in the Cragger Five Tribes bill by Representative Carter. This amendment would make retroactive that part of the restrictions act of 1908 bearing upon the property of deceased Indians. Considerable property is affected by the provisions as follows: "Conveyances made by full-blood heirs subsequent to July 27, 1908, of allotments where the allottee died prior to May 27, 1908, shall have the same effect as if the allottee had died subsequent to May 27, 1908, and without requiring the approval of the secretary of the interior."

Ferris Is Opposed.

Representative Scott Ferris also took a fling at what he called "reactionary" legislation. He succeeded in having eliminated from the bill a provision which would make it impossible for every restricted Indian in the United States save only the Five Tribes to sell their personal property. He pointed out that almost every western banker and business man had taken chattel mortgages on an Indian's pony or live stock and that a great convenience to the Indians had resulted. The Indian office is in favor of this national restriction upon the Indians. Chairman Burke finally agreed to let the provision go out of the bill.

An attempt to repeal an old law which provides for an allotment of Indians on the public domain failed. This provision, it is thought, will some day be made use of by Indians who for one reason or another failed to establish their rights to allotments in the Five Tribes and elsewhere.

The Burke bill was also amended in order that state banks may become depositories for Indian moneys. Heretofore only national banks have enjoyed this business. It is estimated that in Oklahoma alone several million dollars may be transferred from national to state banks, if the proper security is forthcoming.

Guthrie, Okla., May 11.—Chas. L. Daugherty of the State Department of Labor, who has just returned to the capital from Norman, tells of a situation that exists in that city, which illustrates one of the effects of the recent Hook decision.

It appears from Mr. Daugherty's statement that a certain paving company having its offices in another state, had recently taken a contract with the city of Norman to put in a lot of paving. In due time this work was inaugurated and the company employed a large number of workmen. Under the law of the state any company employing laborers must pay them the wages common to the community in which the work is being done. It was reported to Mr. Daugherty that this law was being violated; so he went to Norman forthwith to make an investigation.

At Norman Mr. Daugherty found that the paving company had taken the contract before Judge Hook rendered his decision, and that they had figured their contract on the basis of the freight rates in operation at that time. They had figured on using a great quantity of asphaltum from Ardmore, the freight on which at that time was 52c per ton. Immediately upon the renderings of the Hook decision the railroads advanced the rates on asphaltum to $1.50—an increase of approximately 200 per cent. This increase compelled the paving company to cut their expenses, so they reduced the wages of their employees from $2.00 per day to $1.75 per day. The officials of the company told Mr. Daugherty that they were perfectly willing to pay current prices for labor, but to do so in view of the increased freight rates would cause them to lose heavily on their contract. Under the law however, they were compelled to restore the wages of employees to the former figure and to bear loss themselves.

ICE BREAKS ON KLONDYKE.

Damage Threatened From Jams in River Near Dawson.

Dawson, Yukon Territory, May 10.—The ice on the Klondyke river broke up yesterday and a big jam formed at the Ogilvie steel bridge, a mile below here. The ice was piled up to a height of ten feet and the water was backed up over the flats. Several houses were floated from their foundations and carried down stream. Two feet of water ran through the big shops of the Yukon Gold Company, which cover several acres and were just completed. The pressure against the steel bridge is terrific, and if the jam does not break up soon, there is danger of the bridge being carried out.

Jim Faunt Le Roy went to Holdenville this morning. He has accepted a position with Hamilton Drug Co.

THE COMET'S APPROACH.
Astronomy is not only the oldest
of the sciences, but it is the most
noble and is most closely associated in all the ages with the exaltation of human conception to a comprehension of the Creator. When the Chaldean shepherds gazed into the star-
rude formulation of rudimentary astronomy they were the pioneers in a system of investigation that has progressed unceasingly to the present
time. To the purely mathematical

studies of the ancients we have in
this latter day added many improvements. Solar chemistry has resulted
from one of the most wonderful discoveries of all times—the spectro-
scope.
About a year ago the astronomers
of the world began to predict the ex-
act day, and nearly the exact hour,
when Halley's great comet would
again visit our planetary system after
an absence of three-quarters of a
limit of all known stellar space. With
an exactitude that is almost uncanny
this wonderful comet came on scheduled time, and on May 18 the earth
will pass through its luminous tail.
Already the men of science have
studied this comet from all the ob-
servatories in the world, and it is being photographed in continuous
is the fact that a spectrum analysis
of its tail reassures us that no damage to the earth may be expected
when our atmosphere comes in contact with the components of the
comet's gaseous appendage.
Interesting and deeply impressive
develops to the human eye. Thanks
to the astronomers, we of the civilized world are prepared for the sight.
We have been notified, long in advance, of the exact nature of this solar phenomenon and we are not afraid. But in all parts of the world there are ignorant and superstitious peoples who will be thrown into paroxysms of fear. Even in this country with the wide-spread publicity which has been given to every-
are many who believe that the end of the world is at hand. In ordinary
times when there is no visible comet
there are frequent demonstrations
among certain religious and superstitious sects that take up some casual disaster—a flood or a confagration—and make it the basis of a prediction that the world is about to be destroyed. But our old earth has
been wagging along in security for
many millions of years, and Halley's
comet has come and gone countless times, yet as long as we know no harm has ever resulted and human

Kansas City, May 11.—To shield
respectable residence districts of the city from the baleful gleam of the
"red light," the board of police commissioners will segregate vice.
Solon T. Gilmore and Thomas R.
Marks made a tour yesterday of certain portions of the district roughly
bounded by Tenth street, Kersey Coates terrace, Oak street and the river. They found in some parts of
that section, recognized as tough in bygone years, that the scarlet element had been crowded out by the Italian colony. These people are in-
bought homes. They do not want to bring their children up in a bad environment. Every day complaints are made to the board of the scarlet invasion in districts formerly free from undesirables.
"We learned much on our trip,"
said Commissioner Gilmore last night
"but no decision was reached. If possible we want to establish a segregated district. We cannot legalize, but we can regulate. Undesirable characters must be moved from districts
over which they have scattered. Other methods have been resorted to in
the past, but the cure has been
worse than the evil. Just where the
proposed district should be is a matted that calls for the exercise
of care and judgment. The police
commissioners have their own opinions, but before we fully decide we

Cayenne Pepper Vinegar.
This is an enemy to microbes, and
has been sent to many of the soldiers
in the Philippines. The ingredients
called for are one pint cider vinegar,
one-half ounce cayenne pepper, two
teaspoonfuls walnut catsup, a clove
of garlic and cochineal to color. Slice
the garlic and put the rest of the ingredients in a large glass, can or bottle. Allow it to infuse for a month, strain, bottle and seal.

Butter Taffy.
Put into a granite saucepan a cup
and a half of light brown sugar, three
tablespoonfuls of molasses, a table-
spoonful and a half each of hot water
and vinegar and a pinch of salt. Cook
until brittle when dropped in cold water. Add three tablespoonfuls of
butter, cook a moment, add a table-
spoonful of vanilla and pour into a shallow buttered pan. When cool mark into squares.

Velvet Cream.
One pint cream, whipped stiff, add
one and one-half tablespoonfuls of gelatin. Soak the gelatin in a little hot water until dissolved. One tablespoonful of vanilla, sugar to taste, one-half cupful of chopped pecans, one-half
slice of candied pineapple cut up, one-
half cupful candied cherries chopped.

Corn Soup.
Open a can of corn, empty into a saucepan and cover with water. Let
come to a boil, add plenty of sweet
a colander to remove the coarse part
of the corn. Return to the fire, season with salt, pepper and butter and

The Prodigal
Uncle

It was during the second term in
the penitentiary that the great plan
first came into Jim Byers' head. At first it was only a thought that stole
upon him during the night, while he
tossed uneasily upon his plain bed;
then a desire; suddenly a mighty and overwhelming passion which must be fulfilled.
When he was freed prison societies
came to him and offered him help.
But he refused and started on his
tramp eastward with the little money
that he had earned. First he must fulfill his determination.
It was 150 miles up state to the old home where his brother—the rich man—still lived. Walter had stayed
at home and prospered, and was always spoken of as a prospective millionaire, while he, the outcast, the
prodigal, the jailbird, the broken man,
tramped eastward along the railroad
line for that first reunion after 15
years of absence and silence.
It was his absolute determination to
meet his brother face to face and kill
him, kill him as calmly and remorse-
lessly as he himself had once killed
cattle in the slaughter yards, because
he had prospered while he was starving. What would come afterward he did not think or care.
For five nights and days he tramped
along the railroad line, exulting at
each remembered landmark for the
A dusty tramp, disheveled, torn, a few coins clanking in his pockets as he tripped from tie to tie, the knife hidden in his sleeve which was to ab-
solve his debt of hatred. In this wise
he reached the little village.
He stood still, rubbing his eyes in wonder. This his home? Why, here was a factory town, with smoke belching from the tops of 30 tall chimneys.
Did anybody remember the old By-
ers homestead?
Yes, the satan's master remembered
it. But he did not remember Jim in his tramp's clothes, with prison tattoos upon his face. It had been sold and pulled down these ten years or more. Walter Byers, that was the name, the Byers home, that red brick building on the hill yonder. He might get
always in need of hands in his factory.
Slowly Jim turned his face toward
his brother's house and toiled up the hill painfully. No matter, his work would soon be over. But when he
stood still, staring into the face of a little girl who sat there, shading her eyes as she gazed cityward.
"Is Mr. Byers at home?" and he felt the steel beat a tattoo against the
bare flesh of his arm.
"Father's not home yet," said the
"So you're Walter Byers' daughter, are you? Have you any brothers and sisters?"
"No, there's only me. You're not my Uncle Jim, are you?"
She looked into his face frankly
and anxiously.
"No, I know you're not. Because you're so poor and Uncle Jim's rich.
He's coming home some day to take
us by surprise. Only, you see, we're all so anxious for him to come, because father tried so hard for years
to find him, and we know he's making
his fortune out in the west somewhere
and he'll come back again."
He had become a myth, the rich
his devoted family! Jim heard incidents of his boyhood, exploits now greatly magnified, from his little niece's lips. And they were proud of him.
For the first time since he had left
the penitentiary he laughed, then
stopped and drew his sleeve across
his eyes. He turned away.
"Won't you wait for father? He won't be long. Who shall I tell him called to see him?"
Jim straightened himself.
"Tell him a broken man who's come out to meet the world again, to lift up his head and look it in the eye
squarely. A man who's taken his beating and learned his lesson."
He turned and plunged down the
steep hill westward in the direction
of the railroad line.
New York Farm.
A farm in Central New York,
bought a few years ago for $15 an
acre, produced two years later a crop
of peas worth more than $50 an acre.
This incident, considered in conjunc-
can be bought for even less than the
value of the buildings standing on the land, is used in a bulletin by Commissioner Pearson of the state agricultural department to indicate the possibilities of agriculture in New York.
This publication also gives the value of crops in this state for a period
of 40 years, showing that New York
is the fourth state in agricultural importance. A significant feature of the
York raised 35,000,000 bushels of potatoes, valued at $10,985,179, last year
it produced 34,550,000 bushels, valued at $26,132,000. Similarly increased value is shown in other crops, while
What's the Use!
I shall never have another photograph taken.
Dorothy—Why not, dear?
I shall—O, if it looks like me I don't like it, and if it flatters me my friends don't like it.—Stray Stories.

Washington, May 11.—Fighting for the preservation of the corporation to the "immunity bath," the American Sugar Refining company today appealed to the supreme court of the United States for protection against the government. The controversy arises out of an investigation by a federal grand jury in New York.

The jury desired to examine two specified books of the corporation, instead of issuing a subpoena to the secretary of the corporation or other official requiring him to appear with these books. United States Attorney Wise procured subpoena from Judge Holt directed to the corporation itself.

An attempt was made by the corporation to have Judge La Combe quash the subpoena. He declined and when the corporation failed to comply fined it $500 for contempt.

Judge La Combe said the procedure was no doubt a wholly novel practice. He added that corporations, unlike individuals, were not protected by the fifth amendment to the constitution, which provided that no person shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself.

Judge Le Combe said he was not prepared to assent to the proposition that the officer producing the books is entitled to volunteer testimony as to what the books contain, nor was the judge impressed with the argument that the corporation could not physically produce the books. He said obedience to the subpoena would be complete when a messenger brought the books and took them away after each session of the grand jury.

The Santa Fe is attacked on the grounds that it is violating the terms of the contract by which the United States granted it a right of way through Oklahoma, in charging higher rates in Oklahoma than in Kansas on certain commodities, whereas the grant was of right of way on the condition that Oklahoma rates would never be higher than in neighboring states. The attorney general contends in his petition to the United States supreme court that by reason of the lower Kansas rates the grant of right of way has been violated and with that the petition is cancelled. The Santa Fe has approximately 786 miles of railroad in the state.

In the other case against shipments of intoxicants to Oklahoma purchasers who hold government licenses to sell the same is based on grounds fairly well known, since there has been much agitation both in state and federal courts around this point and Governor Haskell himself once addressed President Taft a communication relative to it. The attorney general, however, attacks the matter from a new standpoint in asking a permanent injunction that will prevent any transportation company from accepting shipments to such holders of internal revenue license in Oklahoma. That for such a plan to be successful will require that all railroads and express companies taking shipments to Oklahoma be furnished with a list of all internal revenue license in this state, is taken into consideration by the attorney general.

Outside of the importance of the matters involved in the two suits considerable interest is given this latest step of Attorney General West by the belief that he has received neither instructions from Governor Haskell concerning nor permission to institute the proceedings. Also since the proceedings are to be initiated in the supreme court of the United States higher than which there is no court or authority, the governor is apparently left without recourse, should he think it best to hold up matters as he did in the famous case against the Prairie Oil and Gas company.

Chandler, Ok., May 11.—Better averages has been made this week by the contesting teams of the Oklahoma National Guard than are usually made by the regular army, according to officers of the guard who looked over the figures. Lieut. Cullison of Enid, winner of the Miles gold medal last year, heads the fifteen high men today. Capt. Tullbee is second. Saturday the last elimination will be made and five officers and ten enlisted men will compose the team for the National competition. This team will contest with the Missouri team at Kansas City in July.

Soldier May Not Hang.

Topeka, May 10.—It will be determined by the department of justice next Saturday whether Charles O'Neal, the regular army soldier, will be hanged at Leavenworth. Under the decree of the federal court the hanging is set for May 23. However, no preparations are being made by the United States marshal for the event, because he has received word from Washington that final action will be taken by the department of justice next Saturday. If the president does not commute the sentence to life imprisonment, then the scaffold will be built next week.

Swanston County Case Before a Referee—Proclamation Not Claimed.

Guthrie, Okla., May 10.—Claude Stringer of Oklahoma City, was today appointed referee by Governor Haskell to take evidence in the Swanston county election case after an extended hearing at the governor's office, in which the Swanston county men urged him to issue his proclamation starting off the county, and the enemies of the new county that he declare the election void because of alleged frauds.

Stringer will take evidence in Snyder, at a time to be fixed. The anti-Swanston people are given until next Saturday to put their charges of fraud in writing and to file the same. Both sides were given time to briefs relative to the constitutional point involved in the fact that the portion of Comanche county involved voted heavily against the new county rather than 60 per cent in its favor.

The charge that negroes were brought in and voted at Snyder was repeated before the governor and denied by Snyder representatives who contend that the negroes worked at the big cotton mill in that town and were entitled to vote.

TEDDY SEES SHAM BATTLE.

First Civilian That Ever Reviewed German Troops Salutes Each Command.

Berlin, May 11.—A sham fight in which 12,000 German soldiers of all arms took part, occupied the attention of Col. Roosevelt and Emperor William for several hours this morning. After the battle, which took place on the field at Doberitz, the whole body of troops paraded before the president and the emperor, who were standing side by side some twenty paces in front of the gorgeous staff. They saluted the colors of the various commands, the emperor touching his helmet and Col. Roosevelt lifting his sombrero.

Speaking partly in English and partly in German, the emperor, turning to Col. Roosevelt, said:

Guthrie, Okla., May 11.—There was a stir in legal, railroad and political circles here tonight when it was learned that Attorney General West leaves for Washington tomorrow to institute original proceedings in the supreme court of the United States to cancel the title of the Santa Fe railroad to its right of way through Oklahoma, and to permanently enjoin all railroad and express companies from accepting interstate shipments of wet goods into Oklahoma to consignees holding internal revenue licenses to sell liquor.

The attorney general, without the least warning, has had the two big cases prepared and the papers are already packed for Washington. He goes in person to make the preliminary arguments.

The Santa Fe is attacked on the grounds that it is violating the terms of the contract by which the United States granted it a right of way through Oklahoma, in charging higher rates in Oklahoma than in Kansas on certain commodities, whereas the grant was of right of way on the condition that Oklahoma rates would never be higher than in neighboring states. The attorney general contends in his petition to the United States supreme court that by reason of the lower Kansas rates the grant of right of way has been violated and with that the petition is cancelled. The Santa Fe has approximately 786 miles of railroad in the state.

In the other case against shipments of intoxicants to Oklahoma purchasers who hold government licenses to sell the same is based on grounds fairly well known, since there has been much agitation both in state and federal courts around this point and Governor Haskell himself once addressed President Taft a communication relative to it. If the president does not commute the sentence to life imprisonment, then the scaffold will be built next week.

Chandler, Ok., May 11.—Better averages has been made this week by the contesting teams of the Oklahoma National Guard than are usually made by the regular army, according to officers of the guard who looked over the figures. Lieut. Cullison of Enid, winner of the Miles gold medal last year, heads the fifteen high men today. Capt. Tullbee is second. Saturday the last elimination will be made and five officers and ten enlisted men will compose the team for the National competition. This team will contest with the Missouri team at Kansas City in July.

Soldier May Not Hang.

Topeka, May 10.—It will be determined by the department of justice next Saturday whether Charles O'Neal, the regular army soldier, will be hanged at Leavenworth. Under the decree of the federal court the hanging is set for May 23. However, no preparations are being made by the United States marshal for the event, because he has received word from Washington that final action will be taken by the department of justice next Saturday. If the president does not commute the sentence to life imprisonment, then the scaffold will be built next week.
